Is your site inspection-ready?

Ten points the German food safety authority (Lebensmittelüberwachung) wants to see on the subject of pests. Go through the list in ten minutes — every open point is a written condition you can spare yourself at the first unannounced visit.

|-----------|---|--------------------------|
| 01 | Monitoring plan with floor map in place
Every control point (bait station, monitor, trap) is numbered and marked on a current floor plan. | ☐ |
| 02 | Fixed inspection intervals — and proof of them
It is defined how often the site is inspected, and every inspection is documented with date and signature. | ☐ |
| 03 | Complete records per control point
For every inspection, finding and action are recorded — “no finding” is an entry too. | ☐ |
| 04 | Trend evaluation instead of single values
You can show whether activity at a point is rising or falling — and what was done in response. | ☐ |
| 05 | Structural weak points under control
Door seals, pipe and cable penetrations, fly screens and plinths are checked and sealed. | ☐ |
| 06 | Goods-in is inspected
Deliveries are checked for signs of infestation (gnaw marks, webbing, droppings) before they go into storage. | ☐ |
| 07 | Storage follows the rules
First in, first out; clearance from walls and floor; opened packs in tightly closing containers. | ☐ |
| 08 | Waste handling is clean and defined
Sealed containers, regular emptying and cleaning, location away from goods-in and storage. | ☐ |
| 09 | Staff are instructed
Employees know the reporting route when they see something; hygiene instruction under IfSG §§ 42/43 is documented. | ☐ |
| 10 | Responsibility and emergency route are defined
It is settled who calls whom in case of an infestation — with availability outside office hours. | ☐ |
